From the President

Charge to the Graduates

There is a report, conducted and published annually by the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania and a well-known global consumer insight firm that ranks countries. Thousands of people taken from over 80 countries are asked to respond to questions on the basis of 65 country attributes, e.g., economic influence, power, citizenship and quality of life, in order to determine each country's success as a modern nation. The rankings are part of an analysis project called the "Best Countries Report." In 2018, last year, and for the second year in a row, Switzerland ranked as the world's best country, followed by Canada, Sweden, Germany, United Kingdom, Japan, Sweden, Australia, United States, France, Netherlands. Nowhere on the list can any country from the Middle East be found; actually, there is no ranking for them. There is also such a thing as a research analysis report on the best country to raise children in: Denmark ranks first here, then Sweden, Norway, Finland, Canada... Again, no Middle Eastern country is anywhere in sight.

If you check the report about the Safest Countries in the world – there is such a report that lists 31 countries – you will find that Iceland ranks first, and Latvia and Spain rank 31 and 30, but no Middle Eastern country is anywhere in between or even in sight.

Dear graduates, you all come from the Middle East, from Syria, born and raised, but also from Lebanon, where you have lived and studied. Well, neither Syria nor Lebanon figure anywhere among the best countries of the world, nor among the best to raise your children in, nor among the safest countries to live in. It is very likely that they rank somewhere at the very end of such listings. Yet, it is in these countries, at the very end of every list, that you live, have studied theology, and where you will continue to live and work. A different type of report, the Holy Scriptures, tells us that it is precisely in this region of the world that is farthest of all from the best country to be, that God chose to reveal Himself; it is in this region of the world that God formed a people and chose to accompany them; it is this region of the world that God chose for his Son to be born and to be raised in, in order to fulfill God's mission to the whole world.

You have been trained in what is not the best countries in the world; you have been spiritually formed and theologically shaped in what is not the best countries to be raised in; and you will be serving in very unsafe countries, but your theological training and spiritual formation are the best and most excellent, not because of the grades you got, or the seminary that you studied in, or the degrees you have acquired, but in so far as you will serve and dedicate your lives to precisely the countries that are not the best in the world, not the most children-raising friendly, and not the safest.

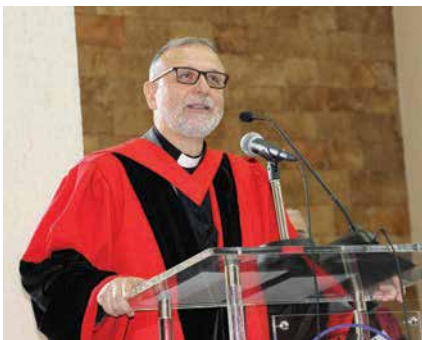

For our part, as a theological seminary, we measure our success in theological education, not simply by our academic standards and qualified teaching staff, or the number of volumes we have in our library, or the use of the latest technology in learning tools, but most importantly by whether those who study here remain to serve and persevere in what are not the best places to be, and so identify with, support, console, encourage, lead and minister to their brothers and sisters in those places which the world reports scorn and ranks last, but which figured first on God's list.

So, congratulations, dear graduates, not just because you received your degrees and finished your studies successfully, but because you will also put your education to use, and you will minister and serve, where it is most needed in this world-forsaken, but not God-forsaken, region. May that great declaration of faithfulness and steadfastness of the prophet Habakuk be your guiding light and your graduation motto:

*"Though the fig tree does not blossom, and no fruit is on the vines, though the produce of the olive fails and the fields yield no food, though the flock is cut off from the fold and there be no herd in the stalls, yet I will rejoice in the LORD, I will exult in the God of my salvation.
GOD, the Lord, is my strength; he makes my feet like the feet of a deer, and makes me tread upon the heights."* (Hab 3:17-19)

Farewell Sermon of Shaké Geotcherian Jackson

The Seminary's traditional Holy Week and Easter Service was an occasion to hear a farewell sermon from Mrs. Shaké Geotcherian Jackson, Instructor for Christian Education and Director of the Christian Education Resource Center (CERC), who is leaving N.E.S.T. and Lebanon at the end of this academic year to join her husband, Paul David Jackson, in England. Shaké joined the faculty in 2008, and has since organized tens of activities, workshops and seminars for Lebanese and Middle Eastern churches. She also supervised and coordinated the Pastors Sabbatical Program for the last 11 years, helped in the production of the N.E.S.T. Newsletter, served on the Spiritual Life committee and contributed in many ways to the life of the Seminary. The N.E.S.T. community is sad to see her go, but we wish her God's blessings on her new life with her husband in the United Kingdom.

Mrs. Shaké Geotcherian

Spring Retreat and Cedar Tree Planting

At Abeih

Around the cedar tree

The annual Spring Trip/Retreat took place after the end of the academic year on Tuesday June 11. Thirty-five members of the N.E.S.T. community – students, faculty members and some guests - went on a one-day trip to the village of Abeih in the Aleih district. The main aim was to visit the place where the Theological Seminary (predecessor of N.E.S.T.) was founded in the spring of 1869, and so to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the founding of the Theological Seminary in Lebanon. Dr. Sabra introduced the place and gave a brief history of the beginnings of the Theological Seminary in Abeih; Rev. H. Badr then explained the plans of the National Evangelical Church of Beirut for renovating the place and setting up a vocational school there. Then all took part in prayers, singing and reflections on the mission of a theological seminary. After lunch, the group drove up to the Barouk Cedar reserve where a cedar tree was adopted in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the Seminary.

International Ecumenical Youth Meeting in Lebanon

Worship Service

Between March 22-26, 2019, an International Ecumenical Youth Meeting took place in Lebanon as a joint event between the Taizé Community in France and the Middle East Council of Churches. Around 1600 young men and women came from all over the Middle East and from many parts of the world to meet in Beirut and take part in prayers, worship, workshops, discussion groups, and inter-religious encounters. All the churches of the region were represented. Professor Rev. Dr. Rima Nasrallah was a very prominent member of the main organizing committee, and many of the N.E.S.T. students took part in and also led many of the activities.

N.E.S.T. students at Taizé meeting

After the International Ecumenical Youth meeting ended, many participating groups expressed interest to visit N.E.S.T. and get more information on its Studies in the Middle East program. N.E.S.T. hosted the groups and introduced its programs:

Visit of Swedish Youth

Visit of Dutch Youth

Old Testament and the Jewish People Today

“What Do the Old Testament and Judaism Have to Do with Our Lives Today?” was the topic of discussions between faculty and students. The Student Spiritual Life Committee organized a whole afternoon of discussion on March 30, 2019. Two presentations launched the debate: the first was given by Dr. George Sabra on “The Old Testament and “Israel” in Middle Eastern Christian Theology”. The second was a lecture by Dr. Johnny Awwad on the interpretation of Romans 9-11 as relating to the church and its relation to the Jewish people.

Seminary Sundays

As has become customary every spring semester, groups of students and professors visit some local Protestant churches, leading worship and speaking about N.E.S.T. The churches visited in May were:

-National Evangelical Church in Hadath

-Emmanuel Armenian Evangelical Church (Dowra)

N.E.S.T. Publications

Sheikh M. Abou Zeid

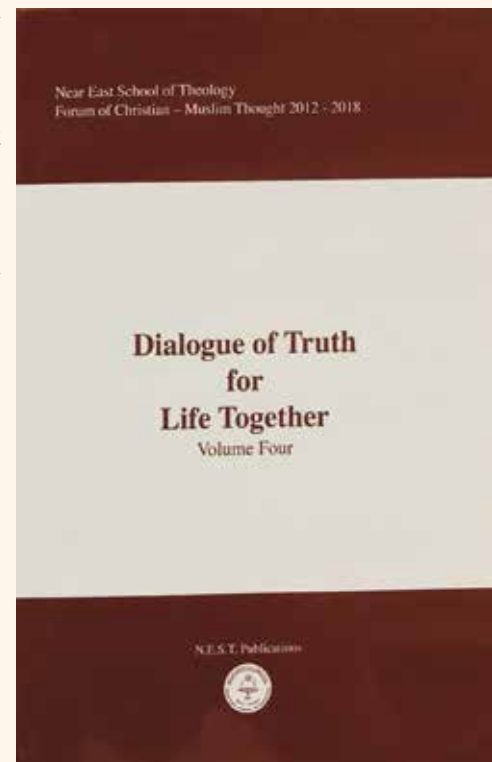

In this academic year 2018/2019, the Seminary published two books:

محمد أبو زيد، صفحات منسية من تاريخ صيدا العثمانية. نبذ من أخبار عائلة "إدي" الإنجيلية الأميركية. المنشورية: منشورات كلية اللاهوت للشرق الأدنى ودار منهل الحياة، 2018.

[Mohammad Abou Zeid, Forgotten Pages from Sidon's Ottoman History. Stories of the American Evangelical Eddy Family]

Sheikh Mohammad Abou Zeid, the head of the Sidon Sunni Courts, wrote an objective and rather sympathetic account of the work and dedication of the Eddy American missionary family that lived and worked in Sidon for many generations. The Preserving Protestant Heritage Project at N.E.S.T. considered this work to be a valuable addition to its work, and it also viewed it as a testimony to Christian-Muslim relations, so N.E.S.T. decided to publish it under its name. Funds for printing and publication were given by Danmission. The launching was on Nov. 29, 2018, within the Public Lectures series.

Dialogue of Truth for Life Together. Volume 4 of the Papers of the "Forum for Christian-Muslim Thought" at the N.E.S.T., edited by N. Ma'amarbashi and George Sabra, was published in 2019. It has contributions in English, but it is mainly in Arabic.

Sixth N.E.S.T.-SiMO Consultation

Every two to three years, N.E.S.T. and the German Board of the Studies in the Middle East Program (SiMO) hold a consultation to discuss and evaluate the program, as well as to reflect on topics of common concern. This year, the sixth such consultation marked the 20th anniversary of the founding of the SiMO program, and it was hosted by Göttingen University. Six N.E.S.T. faculty members and seven students travelled to Germany on April 23rd. The Opening Session was held at the Faculty of Theology in the University of Göttingen with addresses delivered by the Dean of the Theological Faculty of Göttingen, the Rt. Rev. Ralf Meister, Bishop of the Evangelical Church of Hannover, President Sabra and Prof. Martin Tamcke, Chairperson of the SiMO Board in Germany.

The next three days were spent in a conference at a Coptic Orthodox Monastery in Höxter, just outside Göttingen. The theme of the conference was: “The Impact of the Current Political and Social Developments on the Witness of the Churches: A Time for Spiritual Rebuilding?” Altogether there were 56 participants – former SiMO students, German pastors who had been to N.E.S.T. in previous years, and other interested individuals. Three of our faculty members (Awwad, Nasrallah, Sabra) gave lectures, and several German speakers also contributed. N.E.S.T. students participated in the discussions and made a very good impression on those present.

In Memoriam

Ray Kiely (1918-2019)

N.E.S.T. would like pay tribute to the memory of Rev. Dr. Ray Kiely who passed away on February 9th, 2019 at the age of 99. Dr. Kiely served as Interim president of N.E.S.T. for two years (1983-85). Those were very difficult years for the country and the Seminary. Ray and Martha Kiely came to Lebanon to lead the Seminary at a time when the Lebanese themselves were fleeing their country due to the civil war. They set an example to all of us. They were devoted friends and supporters of the Seminary throughout their lives.

“Well done, thou good and faithful servant...Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord” (Mt. 25:21)
